Miss Theo Eyton Jones has asked me to escort, by a few words, the interesting book she has written after her visits to the various centres of the Orthodox East. I accepted her request gladly, because I think that such a book, addressed not to Theologians but to the wider English Public, may be useful.

First it presents the Orthodox Church in all its splendour as the writer has seen a known it by personal touch & intercourse, i.e. an East so far from the West externally, & yet so near essentially. Further, this book, is presenting a larger knowledge of the Orthodox Church to the English people, contributor in the creation of a very favourable atmosphere for the present movement towards a mutual understanding between the Orthodox & Anglican Churches.

(an dotti)

 I congratulate Miss Theo Eyton Jones on her interesting book, & I wish that it may meet with a good reception & a large circulation.
