

A vertical strip of brown paper, likely a piece of tape or a bookmark, with two circular holes and a small mark. The paper is light brown and has a slightly textured appearance. There are two circular holes, one near the top and one near the bottom. A small, dark, curved mark is visible near the top hole. The strip is set against a white background.