

426
 Manuscript page from the Voynich manuscript, folio 426. The page contains text written in the Voynich script, which is a form of shorthand or cipher. The text is arranged in approximately 20 lines. A large, ornate initial 'V' is visible in the center of the page, marking the beginning of a new section. The page is numbered '426' in the top right corner.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[The page contains dense handwritten text in a cursive script, likely from a historical manuscript. The text is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side. A large circular library stamp is visible in the center of the page.]

[The page contains dense handwritten text in a cursive script, likely from a historical document or manuscript. The text is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side. A large, faint watermark reading "AKAHIMIA" is visible across the center of the page.]

